I've always wondered if the American Empire would end with a whimper or a bang. We may well find out which in the next week or so. When Germany wanted to reunite both pieces in 1990 it was important for the USSR to participate in the decision since East Germany was pretty much a client state. The US assured the USSR that Nato would not move east to threaten Russian interests.

Like all other US promises and treaties, the US ignored it. Then a few years back when Ukraine was being all too friendly with Russia the US spent $5 billion overthrowing the democratically elected government of the country. Now Nato and the US are egging on the idiots running Ukraine that they should attack the breakaway republics.

The MIC and Neocons need constant war to feed their pocketbooks and blood lust. The US just got thrown out of Afghanistan with their tail between their legs by a gang of goat herders so it's time to attack someone else not as powerful as a Girl Scout size group of goat herders so the US and allies are threatening both Russia and China. At the same time.

What could possibly go wrong?

Nato is moving three divisions of tanks from Greece to near Ukraine while Russia has massed troops on the Russian side of the border. It's a situation exactly the same as the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962. The US didn't want nuclear missiles five minutes from Washington. Well, Putin doesn't want the same thing and has issued an ultimatum to Nato and the US. If they arm Ukraine Russia will sort out the issue. So the US Empire may well end with the Mother Of All Bangs.

Naturally the MSM is totally ignoring what could be the start and end of WW III because they are too busy producing Fear Porn of a variant of Covid that is more contagious and less deadly. Biden is warning that hospital wards are being filled with people infected with the new flavor of the week. Funny how no one ever mentions that we now know the jabs are a total waste of time and those fully vaccinated with two shots last week are being shoved into the unvaxed mob until they take yet another shot that won't work either.

I think we have seen the worst of the Tax Loss Silly Season with gold and silver shares starting to catch a bid. At the very least that rally should last through February and perhaps March.

I wrote a couple of articles about Cabral Gold (CBR-V) in 2020. And here. The company was one of the top gaining stocks in Canada for the year. They are in the midst of a 25,000 meter drill program yet don't seem to get much respect even with five drills turning.

Cabral has a one million ounce 43-101 resource already that in theory should provide some sort of floor to the share price but it doesn't seem to work. At the first of 2021 the shares were $.89 before dribbling down to a low of $.34 in late October. They are catching a bid now.

The Tapajós region was from 1978 until 1995 the largest placer gold mining district in history with reported production of between 20 and 30 million ounces of gold. Cuiú Cuiú was the richest piece of the pie with production of an estimated 2 million ounces of gold.

Cabral can work twelve months a year in Brazil. Lately they have been releasing excellent drill results pretty much every week. On December 15th they reported 22.4 meters of 4.8 g/t Au with 1.35 meters of 62.0 g/t Au. On the 9th of December they showed 70.8 meters of 1.0 g/t Au in a new target. A week before on December 2nd they announced more holes with RC237 giving 19.1 meters of 2.2 g/t Au. On the 24th of November they talked about 46 meters of 1.3 g/t Au in a batch of twenty RC holes.

The 25,000-meter program is continuing and investors will be seeing results on an almost weekly basis. As of right now the company has about $7.5 million in the till so they are well financed for the entire program.

Cabral does an excellent job of communicating and their latest presentation should be studied by anyone considering an investment.

I have participated in a private placement with the company. They are an advertiser so naturally I am biased and you should do your own due diligence.
